S8 13 Cr. 579

Defendants.

OVERVIEW

1. During 2012, law enforcement agents seized over 30 kilograms of methamphetamine that had been supplied by two men: YE TIONG TAN LIM, a/k/a "Giorgio," a/k/a "Triad," and ALLAN KELLY REYES PERALTA, a/k/a "Allan Kelly Peralta Reyes," a/k/a "Kelly," the defendants. Two other men -- SCOTT STAMMERS, a/k/a "Shaun Simmons," a/k/a "S1," and PHILIP SHACKELS, a/k/a "Paul Smith," a/k/a "P1," the defendants -- had been responsible for storing and safekeeping the methamphetamine after it had been delivered by LIM and REYES PERALTA. The methamphetamine was described as being from North Korea, and it had a purity of over 99%.

2. During 2013, the four above-named defendants again worked on a deal involving methamphetamine said to be from North Korea. This time, the methamphetamine volume was 100 kilograms -- and its ultimate destination was New York.

3. In furtherance of the 2013 methamphetamine deal, YE TIONG TAN LIM, a/k/a "Giorgio," a/k/a "Triad," and ALLAN KELLY REYES PERALTA, a/k/a "Allan Kelly Peralta Reyes," a/k/a "Kelly," the defendants, as with the 2012 shipment, served as the suppliers of the drugs. They provided samples of the methamphetamine for testing in the New York market; and they caused a "cover load" of innocuous goods to be dispatched, as a test run for the methamphetamine shipment.

4. SCOTT STAMMERS, a/k/a "Shaun Simmons," a/k/a "S1," and PHILIP SHACKELS, a/k/a "Paul Smith," a/k/a "P1," the defendants, also worked in furtherance of the 2013 methamphetamine deal. STAMMERS and SHACKELS agreed to store and transport LIM and REYES PERALTA's 100-kilogram methamphetamine shipment. STAMMERS and SHACKELS also arranged for LIM and REYES PERALTA's methamphetamine sample to be surreptitiously shipped from one country to another, in advance of the sample's planned shipment to New York.

5. In the course of the 2013 methamphetamine deal, ALEXANDER LNU, a/k/a "Alexander Chaco," a/k/a "Alexander Semencov," a/k/a "A1," the defendant, agreed to serve as the point person, or "ground commander," for the 100-kilogram methamphetamine shipment. ALEXANDER LNU is the sergeant-at-arms of a particular motorcycle gang, and he agreed that eight armed associates from his motorcycle gang would provide security for the methamphetamine.

January 2013: Asian Country-1

As a Prelude to a Larger Shipment, LIM and REYES PERALTA Agree to Send a One-Kilogram Sample of North Korean Methamphetamine to the United States

a. On or about January 24, 2013, in a country in Asia ("Asian Country-1"), LIM and REYES PERALTA met with an individual who represented himself to be a narcotics trafficker, but who was in fact a Drug Enforcement Administration confidential source ("CS-1"); the meeting was audio- and video-recorded, and during the meeting:

i. CS-1 told LIM and REYES PERALTA that he (CS-1) had been told that their (LIM and REYES PERALTA's) methamphetamine "comes from the 'NK' place," meaning North Korea; LIM and REYES PERALTA each responded: "Yes."

ii. CS-1 asked to confirm that the methamphetamine that LIM and REYES PERALTA could now offer was of the same variety as a certain shipment of methamphetamine that LIM and REYES PERALTA previously had supplied; in response, LIM stated: "Yes. Because my boss only gets from the original source."

iii. LIM stated that his drug-trafficking organization is the only one able to procure methamphetamine from North Korea: "Because before, there were eight. But now only us, we have the NK product. . . . [I]t's only us who can get from NK." Later, LIM confirmed: "Our product is really that from NK."

iv. In response to CS-1's request to visit methamphetamine production facilities in North Korea, LIM stated: "No, we can't go to North Korea . . . We take it out. If we don't talk Korean language, they'll have suspicions. And all the, the NK government already burned all the labs. Only our labs are not closed. . . . To show Americans that they are not selling it any more, they burned it. Then they transfer to another base."

v. LIM asked whether the methamphetamine that he and REYES PERALTA provided would be delivered to the United States: "But what we are doing for New York, the ones from us [methamphetamine]? The ones you're going to get from us, you're going to New York?"; CS-1 confirmed, "Yes."

b. On or about January 25, 2013, in Asian Country-1, LIM and REYES PERALTA met with CS-1 and an individual who represented himself to be a narcotics trafficker, but who was in fact a Drug Enforcement Administration confidential source ("CS-2"). The meeting was audio- and video-recorded, and during the meeting:

i. When asked whether LIM could deliver 300 kilograms of methamphetamine to Asian Country-1, LIM confirmed: "Yeah." After discussion about the price of the methamphetamine, LIM was asked whether he could supply the methamphetamine at $60,000 per kilogram, and LIM responded: "I have to check, maybe tomorrow, I'll go to ask Hong Kong. And I'll give you the feedback after I come back."

ii. In response to CS-2's request for a 1-kilogram sample of methamphetamine to be sent to New York for testing in the market, LIM stated: "I have to talk to the boss, because I don't have the sample right now."

iii. In response to CS-2's request for confirmation of the quality of the methamphetamine, LIM responded: "NK." CS-2 confirmed, "NK, ok, North Korea," and LIM replied: "Yes."

c. On or about January 27, 2013, in Asian Country-1, LIM and REYES PERALTA met with CS-1 and CS-2 (collectively, the "CSes"). The meeting was audio- and video-recorded, and during the meeting:

i. In response to a question about his (LIM's) meeting with his boss in Hong Kong, LIM stated: "It's good. We can, we can give you the sample as you wish."

ii. LIM stated that the price of the sample would be: "Sixty-five," meaning $65,000.

iii. During a discussion of how to send a 1-kilogram sample of methamphetamine to New York by commercial carrier, LIM suggested labeling the package as "parts, auto parts."

STAMMERS and SHACKELS Agree to Send Samples of Methamphetamine, Including North Korean Methamphetamine, for Testing in the United States

d. On or about January 28, 2013, in Asian Country-1, STAMMERS met with CS-1 and CS-2. The meeting was audio- and video-recorded, and during the meeting:

i. Referring to methamphetamine that STAMMERS previously had stored, CS-2 said that it had sold well in the United States: "people in New York, they went crazy . . . the places that we put it in the States, New York, all these-- close to Boston, all these places, I mean, they went crazy;" STAMMERS acknowledged: "Right."

ii. STAMMERS indicated that supplying the CSes with North Korean methamphetamine would be difficult, "the NK stuff, it's expensive first of all, and it's so hard to get in", and agreed with the CSes' suggestion that STAMMERS supply samples of methamphetamine from various sources to the CSes in New York. STAMMERS stated: "That's a good idea. We send--what I will do is, I will source, and each one I will send to you . . . and you tell me, 'yes,' 'no,' and I think that's the safest way."

iii. In response to CS-2's question about when STAMMERS could send samples of methamphetamine, STAMMERS noted that North Korean methamphetamine could be especially challenging to obtain, stating: "The NK one is gonna be difficult . . . What I'm gonna do is, I'm gonna leave here and call my guys, because Phil [SHACKELS] is the one dealing with this one, and I'm gonna find out when I can get a sample to you guys."

iv. STAMMERS asked if there was a "big market" in New York for another type of illegal drug.

e. On or about February 4, 2013, SHACKELS sent an e-mail message to STAMMERS and CS-2 in which he (SHACKELS) stated: (i) that he (SHACKELS) expected to shortly receive a sample of methamphetamine ("dvd's") and that he would arrange for it to be packaged and ultimately sent on to "the buyers in NY"; and (ii) that he (SHACKELS) had a connection to someone who "used to work in north korea making dvd's [methamphetamine]" and who has "good connects there for buying huge amounts" of methamphetamine -- "theretelling [sic] me the dvd's [methamphetamine] are basicaly [sic] legal there now and there's huge amountsbeing [sic] made."

STAMMERS wrote, in part: "I just received the following on the two samples: A - Whiter and in smaller granules B - Clear and bigger shards and harder to break. As per the boys, they are both very good and very strong, but they preferred B, even though it leaves a dirty track or base."
